Students at Educational Risk Policy
Attendance, Participation, Engagement and Retention

Definition

The Department of Education recognises the scope and nature of the challenges faced by students at educational risk, their parents and teachers. Students at educational risk are defined as:

"those students who may be at risk of not achieving the major learning outcomes of schooling to levels which enable them to achieve their potential."

This definition is supported by the following descriptors:

Those students:

• who are at risk of not achieving the major learning outcomes whose achievement level, rate of progress or behaviour differs noticeably from past performances and/or that of his/her peers who are not performing

• who are not participating in their schooling

Identification

Students whose participation, educational outcomes or rate of progress, differs noticeably from past performance or whose performance is a concern to the teacher/parent/student are potentially students at Educational Risk.

Curriculum

All students can learn through establishing the students present educational level, the curriculum can be used to build on strengths and to address areas of weakness.

Planning for Improvement

Planning for improvement is an ongoing process. Meeting the needs of students at educational risk is a whole school responsibility, reflected in school planning. Performance and non-performance data such as attendance, participation and behaviour are important factors.

Collaboration

All key stakeholders must be included, the students, parents, care-givers, external agencies and the school. When each stakeholder is empowered, a partnership can be formed between home and school enabling an effective transfer of information to take place.

Outside agencies (Bunbury Regional Education Office, Health Department, Department Child Protection, Police, Juvenile Justice, South West Aboriginal Medical Services and South West Mental Health services) may be able to provide information and support when addressing the needs of SAER.
The Learning Environment

We’ve aimed to create an environment which is welcoming to students, their families and professional colleagues. The environment offers support, effective teaching and learning in a whole school approach.

Departmental policy states that parents be provided with accurate and relevant information about their child's achievement and progress. The school will notify parents as soon as there is any indication that a child's achievement level, rate of progress or behaviours differ noticeably from past performance and that of his/her peers.

Schools have procedures established to report on progress and achievements for students at educational risk. These may include Individual Education Plans, Behaviour Management Plans, Risk Management Plans, Health Plans, etc…

Effective reporting requires a broad range of formal and informal, oral and written communication strategies.

Professional Development

Appropriate professional development for staff is considered an important factor in assisting students at educational risk.

Attendance, Participation, Engagement and Retention

Djidi Djidi Aboriginal School provides inclusive programs that promote a supportive, safe and secure environment with the provision of educational programs that encourage;

If a student has been identified as being truant then a formal meeting will be arranged with parents/guardians.

Students who experience low attendance at school without leave or valid explanation will not be eligible to attend extra-curricular school excursions, camps, fun days, sporting carnivals, reward days, special activities, etc...

It is expected that all children from the age of four (enrolled in Kindergarten and Preprimary, including Aboriginal 3 ½ year old program) to year 7 are to attend school at Djidi Djidi Aboriginal School. Children are expected to arrive at school on time (prior to 8.35 but no earlier than 8.00) and are not to leave the school grounds unless requested by the parents to the Classroom Teacher and only under extraordinary circumstances.

Parents are responsible to inform the teacher or administration the reason why their child(ren) were unable to attend school. This can be received in writing, verbal, email, or SMS. Information will be processed accordingly.

No child can be released from class without authorization/acknowledgement from the administration.
